

Aussie Day jazz cruise

By Carolyn Passfield

Despite the grey skies over Sydney on Australia Day 2012, the PMC members who attended the Sydney Jazz Club's annual harbour cruise aboard the MV Bella Vista had a wonderful day.

Once our boat left Darling Harbour we headed towards Fort Dennison to be ready for the start of the 'ferrython' so we were right amongst the action. Our boat was one of a multitude of watercraft of all shapes and sizes who paraded behind the ferries as they 'raced' east towards the heads then turned and made their way back to the Sydney Harbour Bridge. We spent the next few hours sailing the harbour and were strategically placed to see the Australian Army 21 gun salute at midday, the search and rescue displays, the FA18 hornet fly past and the Red Berets who parachuted into Garden Cove flying their Aussie flags during the rest of the day.

The Jazz aficionados in our group thoroughly enjoyed a day of live music from The Bridge City and Black Mountain Jazz Band as we cruised. During the day I noticed people quietly singing along, moving to the music or just beating time. Several couples in our group took to the dance floor. Everyone said that they had a great time meeting up with old friends, making new ones and generally soaking up the atmosphere. One couple went so far as to rate the day – on a scale of one to 10 – by giving it an 11 and I think that sums up our PMC event nicely. 🏠
